RUSSIAN FLEET SAILS OUT.

MEETS JAPS TEN MILES FROM PORT ARTHUR, TURNS BACK.

Admiral Togo Reports That Fourteen Warships Engaged in the Sortietives Say One Got Away-Togo Again Attacks on Sunday, but Is Repulsed -steady Advance of Japanese Armies.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. TOKIO, July 11.-Admiral Togo reports that last Saturday morning the Russian hattleship Poltava, the cruisers Bayan, Diana, Pallada and Novik, two gunboats and seven torpedo boat destroyers, following vessels dragging for mines, issued from Port Arthur and reached Lungwangtung; about ten miles from the entrance of Port Arthur. A portion of the Japanese squadron near Pingtao (a little further north) exchanged shots with the Bayan.

The Russians returned to Port Arthur at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. There were no casualties on the Japanese side.

Terpede Boats Unable to Get Into Port Arthur, but Suffer No Loss.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. CHEFOO, July 11 .- A European who left Port Arthur on Sunday at 5 P. M. says that the Japanese made an attack with torpedo boats at 1 o'clock on Sunday morning and attempted to penetrate the harbor. They were repulsed without loss to either

The Russians admit that over 1,700 wounded have arrived at Port Arthur since Friday and that many more are to come.

One fisherman said that his boat was almost run down by the Russian cruiser, the decks of which were packed with men. The Japanese boats were seen returning about 5 P. M.

"Much smoke hangs over Port Arthur. On Monday morning the Fawan ran in as far as it dared. Occasional firing was heard. Two heavy explosions were noticed about 10:30 o'clock, followed by a cloud of black smoke, which rose above the west basin. While observing the fire at Port Arthur, it was noticed that the bombardment was apparently being conducted from some distance inland. The shots averaged sixteen a minute. It was possible to distinguish between the fire of the Japanese guns and the reply of the Russians. Allowing five minutes as the fastest economical rate of discharge for each gun, it was estimated that the Japanese have now eighty seige guns in position.

Many drifting mines have been seen this cruise One of these was a Russian electro-contact mine. The others were not familiar to us. All these mines were in neutral waters. The mine situation here is much worse than it was at Dalny. Apparently the Russians place no limit on their sending out of floating mines. It is almost impossible to see these mines in a heavy sea or when sailing against the sunlight. It is utterly impossible to see them at night or in fogs. Many inoffensive junks have been destroyed by striking them. The Fawan passed a fragment of a blown up junk to-day."

HOW KAIPING WAS TAKEN.

Gen. Oku Says Russian Artillery Offered Strong Resistance.

Tokio, July 10 (Delayed) .- Gen Oku briefly reports the operations which resulted in the occupation of Kaiping. The Russians occupied high hills south and east of Kaiping, forming a quarter circle with a radius of six miles, commanding the city and the main road along the coast. Four miles northeast is Haishanhai, which was the final Russian position.

Gen. Oku reports that the advance of his troops began on Tuesday, clearing the hills on Wednesday and Thursday. The first action, on Wednesday, was the severest. Sixteen hundred Russian infantry were engaged. The Japanese casualties numbered twelve. Major Iwahaki was seriously wounded. The Russians left twenty dead on the field. The Russian artillery, occupying the defiles, offered the strongest resistance. All were driven north.

On Friday the Japanese commanded all the approaches to the city. The Russians numbered 20,000 men, principally concentrated at Haishanhai, with their artillery posted on the heights to the northward. During the afternoon they received reenforcements by rail.

On Saturday, at 5 o'clock in the morning. the Japanese opened a cannonade. At 8 o'clock they drove the Russians from the nner heights and at 9 o'clock occupied

The defence of Haishanhai was stubborn and the ground was difficult. The Japanese charged and captured the height. The Russian artillery retired and occupied a position to the northward and harassed the pursuing detachment till they were silenced, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Major-Gen. Koizumi was wounded. The number of casualties is being ascertained. The Emperor will supply artificial limbs to such of the Russian wounded as may need them. Japanese reports state that Dainy's large buildings are uninjured. The waterworks and jetties are being repaired. Seven storehouses, full of provisions, were found. Some land mines have been unearthed, and some floating mines are still being found. The city is under military administration and order and peace prevail under the flag of the Rising Sun. Tokio, July 11.-Gen. Oku sends the following further series of reports regarding the operations in the direction of Kai-

"On July 5 part of the second army defested at 9 o'clock in the morning 1,700 Russians who were occupying a hill three miles northeast of Shihodai. The enemy fled northward. Our main body thereupon adranced as previously planned, driving back the Russian cavalry, and reached Jidohow. A detachment of our left wing occupied the high ground around Tsakiatin.

"Our losses were two killed and ten wounded, including Major Iwasaki, whose injuries are serious. The Russians left twenty dead. Those of the enemy de-ing the enemy around Shakawtai. The Russian infantry, cavalry and artillery retired north, making slight resistance at various points.

"Natives stated that the Russians have 20,000 troops about Kaiping and 2,000 in the vicinity, with guns upon the hills near Soital. They are also in strength around l'ashichao, and reenforcements are arriving. Our casualties since July 5 have been two officers and four men killed and sixteen men wounded.

"On July 8 the enemy having occupied position between Haishantai and Kaipng and also on the high ground north of Seita they began detraining troops near Haishantai. It appears that there are no Russians near Wafangtao. On July 9 we began cannonading the enemy around Kaiping at 5:20 A. M., and occupied the high ground about Tapintun and Thaikiatun at 8 o'clock, defeating the enemy.

"The Russians are still shelling our positions from Sekimun and Haishantai. The enemy, though losing their positions around Kaiping, made a second stand, but near noon we defeated them, taking the high ground.

"The Russians shelled our pursuing troops from Kokisho and Yoroshi, but we silenced their batteries at 3 o'clock in the

MARCHING ON TASHICHAO.

Gen. Sakharoff Tells of Rapid Advance of the Japanese. Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN

ST. PETERSBURG. July 11 -- It is officially announced that a telegram has been received from Gen. Sakharoff, dated yesterday, stating that the Russian losses at Kaiping were 200 kiled and wounded. At noon on Sunday, the General says, the enemy were advancing along the railroad toward Tashichao, eighteen miles northwestward from Kaiping and about the same distance east of Yingkow, the port of Newchwang.

Tokio, July 11.-Gen. Kuroki, commanding the First Japanese army, reports cavalry skirmishes on the Mukden and Liaoyang roads on July 5 and 6. The Japanese casualties were seven.

The Mail commenting upon the remarkable coordination of the three Japanese armies from June 26, says that they placed themselves within striking distance of Liaoyang, Haicheng and Port Arthur on July 2. Gen. Kuroki will assume a position of immediate attack, Gen. Oku is in the highlands west of Kaiping, and between them lie virtually all the Russians.

LONDON, July 12.-There are some indications that the Russian stand at Kaiping was never intended to be more than an attempt to delay the Japanese advance. It is pointed out that the losses were ou of all proportion to the forces engaged if there had been determined opposition. The Tokio correspondent of the Morning Post says that the greater part of the Russians evacuated Kaiping the night before the battle which resulted in the Japanese occupation of the town, their object being to concentrate at Tashichao.

According to the Chronicle correspondent t Vingkow the Russian army, deployed in fighting line, was covering Tashichao on July 11, their advance posts being about sixteen miles south of Tashichao. Firing has been heard in that direction. Gen. Kouropatkin's train is kept in readiness to leave at any moment.

Another Yingkow despatch states that the Japanese landed at Kaiping unopposed and are marching hurriedly to Tashichao, where 4,000 Chinese are digging trenches. Eighteen transports have discharged stores for Gen. Oku's army at Helen Bay. Both sides are finding difficulty in obtaining fodder for their horses. The weather is fine. There is no indication of what troops the correspondent refers to having been

All reports indicate that the Russians are it being an important railway junction. Its capture would involve the fall of Newchwang. However, it is the opinion of experts here that the place cannot be held for more than a few hours, because it is easy to outflank it, and it is expected that it will be evacuated the same as Kaiping after as much resistance as Gen. Kouropatkin prescribes.

'Judging from the despatches of correspondents with the First Japanese Army adquarters, the Russian evacuation of Motien Pass was also in accordance with a deliberate plan, resistance being only maintained to a certain point. The Standard's correspondent telegraphs that he has visited the pass and was surprised to find that it is absolutely unsuited to purposes of defence. The precipitous hill is covered with a forest which is traversed by a narrow winding path, while owing to the steep slopes much of the ground is "dead." The Russians, very wisely, did not attempt to fortify the pass or hold it. Another correspondent refers to the ostentatious retirement from Motien Pass and Gen. Kouropatkin's continuance in an apparently dangerous position between Kaiping and Haicheng as exciting suspicion that the Russians are contemplating some counter move. Gen. Rennenkampf's cavalry division, supported by infantry and artillery, continues to display considerable activity in the northeast. A despatch to the Times, dated Gen. Kuroki's headquartess, July 7, says that the roads flanking the Motien Pass are clear of the enemy, but tri/ling bodies from their centre have been signifed.

The correspondent says he is assured that serious fighting is impossible until the Japanese have reached the neighbor-hood of Liaoyang. This is being delayed until the forces on the far left are drawn up level. The disconnected efforts of the enemy during the past fortnight indicate the absence of preconceived plans, and constitute almost conclusive evidence that Gen. Kour-

Nothing has been received regarding the situation at Port Arthur that justifies any serious conclusions. All the reports of severe fighting come from non-official sources, mostly from refugees. The Tokio correspondent of the Times again mentions the capture of the Miaotsu fort. He adds that the Japanese second column is concentrating against Shuish yung, a cardinal outwork four miles north It is strongly fortified and probably will be the scene of a flerce struggle.

JAPAN PROTESTS TO ITALY. Recall of Minister at Tokio at Russia's

Request Considered Unfriendly. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, July 11 .- The following despatch, dated Rome, July 8, was stopped by the Italian Government, but was re ceived here, by post, from THE SUN's correspondent at Rome, who says that he has adequate authority for its contents:

"Japan has protested against the transfer of the Italian Minister at Tokio, Signor Melegari, to St. Petersburg, as the Japanese Government has learned that he has been recalled to give satisfaction to Russia be cause he is considered to be too friendly toward the Japanese and Japan. Japan intimates that the friends of her enemies may be considered as her own enemies and suggests that such action might induce her to recall the Japanese Minister from Rome.

The Italian Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Japan is Signor J. Melegari. He has held the post at Tokio for the last four years.

BERLIN, July 11.—The newspapers here, while foreseeing that the German Emperor's telegram to the Wyborg Regiment will raise suspicions of German neutrality, explain it as simply a soldierly address impossible to avoid as honorary Colonelin-chief of the regiment.

The papers insist that no political significance can properly be attached to the expression, "God bless its standards." According to the Tageblatt, this does not mean that the Kaiser hopes that Russia will defeat Japan, but merely that the regiment will distinguish itself in battle. Japanese Emperor Gives Diplomas.

CUBANS TO HELP ST. LOUIS. House Appropriates $50,000 More to the Exhibit at the Fair.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
HAVANA, July 11.—The House of Representatives met to-day and passed the Senate bill appropriating $50,000 for the expense of the Cuban exhibit at the St. Louis fair. It also passed a bill empowering the President to appoint a committee to pass upor the remaining protested army payment claims. The committee will have three months in which to finish its work.

A committee previously appointed for the same purpose worked until March 31, when its powers ceased by limitation, and owing to the subsequent deadlock in the House of Representatives a new committee could not be appointed until now. The House adjourned until the President sends a message regarding the details of the payment of the army.

BISHOP DIES, SON SOON AFTER

AGED DR. HUNTINGTON PASSES AWAY AT HADLEY, MASS.

Shortly After Hearing the News, Prof. Huntington of Dartmouth Also Dies -The Bishop Had Been Head of Central New York Diocese Since 1869. HANOVER, N. H. July 11 .- The Right Rev. Frederic Dan Huntington, Episcopal Bishop of the diocese of Central New York, died to-day at Hadley, Mass. His son, Dr. George P. Huntington, who was professor of Hebrew at Dartmouth College, died to-night a few hours after word had been received here of the death of his father.

Dr. Huntington had been ill with slow ever for some time. HADLEY, Mass., July 11 .- The Right Rev. Frederic Dan Huntington, died at his summer home here this afternoon. He was 85 rears old.

Bishop Huntington had been in failing health for several months. He came here on June 20 from his home at Syracuse and the next day offered prayer at the Smith Callege commencement exercises in Northampton. That was his last public appearance. A day or two later he was stricken with pneumonia. Yesterday he was seized with congestive chills.

Bishop Huntington's summer residence here was the old house on the farm in which he was born. Mrs. A. L. Sessions and Miss Mary Huntington, his daughters, were with nim when he died.

Bishop Frederic Dan Huntington was the first Protestant Episcopal Bishop of the diocese of Central New York. He was consecrated April 8, 1869.

Bishop Huntington was born in Hadley Mass. May 28, 1819. His father was the Rev. Daniel Huntington and his mother was Elizabeth Phelps Huntington, whose excommunication by the Congregational Church because of her progressve and un-orthodox views was one of the most interest-ing incidents of New England Congrega-

Bishop Huntington was graduated from mherst College in 1839 as the valedictorian After leaving Amherst the future Bishon After leaving Amherst the future Bishop spent two years at the Harvard divinity school and then settled down as minister of the South Congregational Unitarian Church in Boston. When the Plummer professorship of morals at Harvard College was founded he received the appointment. Lowell and Longfellow were then in the Harvard faculty.

During his service in Harvard Dr. Huntington underwent a change of mind with respect to the points at issue between the Unitarian and the orthodox churches. When the Emmanuel Episcopal Church of Boston was founded he became its rector. Boston did not keep him long, for at a special convention held in St. Paul's Church, Syragues in 1880, he was sleeted the first Rishop. se, in 1869, he was elected the first Bishop Central New York.

Bishop Huntington showed always in-terest in public affairs far beyond that of the ordinary churchman. His constant afforts to secure a better understanding between labor and capital, the care he exercised over the Indians in his jurisdic-tion, his war against the Oneida Community and his many public and private charities caused him to stand out as a noted charities caused him to stand out as a noted figure. He was a man of strong convic-tions. One of these was a firm belief in the existence of hell and punishment after death. He bitterly criticised ministers who figured out an easy time for sinners after death.

Bishop Huntington in early life was edi-tor of the Christian Register, the Monthly Religious Magasine and the Church Monthly, Religious Magasine and the Church Monthly.

The Bishop died in the old Huntington homestead on the farm near Hadley, where he was barn. This was his summer home, where until few years ago, he used to don farmer's clothes, go into the fields, pitch hay and assist the farm laborers for the joy of the work. He delighted in a good horse. Dogs were also pets of his.

ARMOUR SALESMAN NABBED. Police Get a Man Who, They Say, Left a Trail of Bad Checks.

BOSTON, July 11 -William H. Tollefson Omaha, Neb., formerly a salesman in the employ of Armour & Co., was arrested here to-night as a suspicious character. According to the police the prisoner has been travelling over the country since he left the employ of Armour & Co. last August, leaving a trail of worthless checks of small amounts behind him. Armour & Co. posted Tollefson in a hotel paper, offering to aid in the prose cution of the man if he could be located. He was caught here through the shrewdness of a hotel clerk who had read that the false salesman had a very peculiar signature and noticed that the name signed by Tollefson on the register was a singular one.

The police say Tollefson has been working hotels in New York, Philadelphia, Glenwood Springs, Anaconda, Dallas and Mansfield, and that doubtless landlords in other cities were victimized. He had a lot of baggage checks from Albany, Atlanta and Washington hotels and a large roll of money in his recession when a wested

BELMONT FOR CHAIRMAN? Belleved He Wants to Run Parker Campaign-Statement From Mack. ST. Louis, July 11.-The meeting of the new Democratic national committee Sunday afternoon and the passing of resolu tions expressing a preference for Thomas Taggart as chairman has created additional trouble for that organization. Although the success of the Parker been has been due in large measure to the Indiana member of the national committee, yet he has been unable to get the Parker indorsement for the chairmanship.

Just who will be favored by the candidate is hard to tell, although if Senator A. P. Gorman could be induced to take it it is altogether probable that he would receive the indorsement of Judge Parker. Second to him, there is a belief that August Belmont has already asked the appointment in return for what he has done in lining up the country for the nomination. An effort is made to discredit the meeting of the committee Sunday. To-day a statement was issued by National Committeeman Norman E. Mack, speaking for Chairman J. K. Jones. Mr. Mack said:

"Senator James K. Jones will, under the instructions given him by the resolution passed by the convention Saturday night, call a meeting of the national committee as soon as he can confer with Judge Alton B. Parker, the nominee of the party for President, and his friends, and learn from them the date fixed for notifying the nominees of their selection by the convention. He will then call a meeting of the national committee to be held in New York city, it being Judge Parker's wish to meet as many as possible of the national committeemen in attendance upon the meeting. It is for this purpose that Chairman Jones will first consult with Judge Parker in order to make the dates of the notification and the national committee meeting coincide, and thus afford the candidate an opportunity to meet the men who will lead his campaign in the various States. "At this meeting the national committee will elect a chairman, secretary, treasurer and sergeant-at-arms. The committee and sergeant-at-arms. The committee will then take up such other matters as may properly come before it at that time. The national committee will, of course, consult Judge Parker and his friends before organizing. So many garbled reports have been sent out that I deem it necessary to make this statement, as made to me by Chairman James K. Jones, who has been chairman of the national committee for eight years."

PORT CHESTER FRANCHISE TALK. Arguments Before Aldermen Have a

Strangely Familiar Sound. Still another public hearing was held esterday by the Aldermen's railroad committee on the application of the Port Chester company for a grant to build a railroad through some of the streets of The Bronx. There was the familiar sport of records from the territory north rowd of people from the territory north of the Harlem who have so often declared that they want the Port Chester company to have the franchise because they think that the Westchester company has not valid title to its charter and because they believe that the Westchester people are not sincere in their application to be allowed to build. One speaker declared that the only purpose the promoters of the company had was to sell out to the Westchester comhad was to sell out to the west chester colli-pany if they succeeded in getting a fran-chise. Another speaker named Keenan berated the people from West Chester and Mount Vernon for coming down and taking up the time of "our already overworked Addermen." Even the members of the mmittee joined in the laugh which fol-President W. C. Gotshall of the Port Chester company said he was prepared to deposit a bond for $100,000 as evidence of good faith, which proved that the company was desirous of building a road. Chairman Haggerty said the committee would probably not be ready to report at the next meeting of the Aldermen, on July 26.

were crowds of impatient boys and girls waiting for the arrival of the teachers. Just what the attendance on the first day was, Supt. Maxwell was unable to say, as he had not received reports from all of the teachers, but he thought that a large proportion of the enrollment of 23,000 pupils had shown up.

At Public School 31, at Monroe and Gouverneur streets, the children gathered long before the doors were opened at 9 o'clock. About five hundred boys and girls were assigned to classes where basketmaking, sewing and other things are taught. Miss Lohman, the principal, found that there were many others waiting to be admitted, and she decided that in order to accommodate all the youngsters it would be necessary to put them in part time classes. MURDERED WOMAN IN THE HALL tenement at 332 East Twenty-ninth street, went to the front door about 12.30 this morning to have a look at the weather before going to bed. He found the body of woman huddled in the hallway.

IN A WHITE PICTURE HAT AND WHITE SILK WAIST.

Three Stab Wounds in Her Threat, From One of Which She Had Apparently Bled to Death-A Bandage Over the Wound-Some One Rang the Doorbell.

Thompson stooped and saw that she had been stabbed in the throat. A dirty white bandage was red with blood. Thomas called in Policeman Reed, and Reed sent for an ambulance. The woman was dead. At the Morgue three stab wounds, apparently from a very sharp knife, were found in the left side of her throat. Two of these were insignificant. The third, low down, was deep and had killed her. The boarders at the tenement did not know who the woman was, and Mrs. Margaret Hergert, the janitress of the building, said she had never seen the woman before. She had heard something like the fall of a body about 11:30 o'clock, she said but such things were common and she paid no attention to it. Neither did she mind the ringing of the bell which followed the sound of a body falling. The woman was apparently 28 years old

She was 5 feet tall, slight of figure and dark. She wore a white silk shirt waist, a blue serge skirt, flowered silk stockings, patent jeather oxfords and a white picture hat. Detectives Farley and Brady went to work on the case at once.

WIFE AND DEAD BABY IN WELL. Indiana Farmer Finds His Home Desolated -Woman Dies as Result of Assault.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 11.-William Starbuck, a young farmer of Henry county, went to the neighboring village of Greensboro on Saturday evening, leaving his eldest child with its grandparents. His wife was busy with her after supper duties and their infant child was sleeping in its

The father returned about 9 o'clock and when he reached the barn he heard a woman scream on the opposite side of the house Following the sounds he came to an old abandoned well, in which the water is about three feet deep. He recognized the voice of his wife. After several ineffectual efforts to rescue

After several ineffectual efforts to rescue her, he drove to a neighbor's and with his help succeeded in rescuing Mrs. Starbuck, but she was so nervous and hysterical that she could give no account of the causes leading to her being in the well.

When the wife was carried to the house the absence of the infant was 1 oted, and it was found in the well dead. Every effort to get the woman's story failed.

She made her questioners understand, She made her questioners understand, however, that some one had entered the house by removing a window screen, that she had grabbed the infant and attempted to scene and that she had been seen and the scene and t

An examination showed that she had been bruised on the head, shoulders and other parts of the body, and it is believed she smothered the baby in her arms as she ran. There was no water in its lungs, so it did not die from drowning. Nothing in the house was disturbed and it is believed the only object was assault.

Two hundred farmers, led by bloodhounds, are to-night on the trail of the murderers.

WON'T DISCUSS WEDDING REPORT.

Artist John Cecil Clay Refuses to Say Whether He's Married or Not. MAMARON ECK, N. Y., July 11.-John Cecil Clay, the artist, who is said to have ecretly married Miss Marie D. Baudy of St. Louis, Mo., at Greenwich, Conn., on June 22, is occupying the Fiske mansion at Quaker Ridge, midway between Mamaroneck and White Plains.
